Re:V. 1.5 native translations

Posted by atrel - 2009/03/31 10:33

I want to thank Fabien Vassaux (Thalyn) who made the French translation for JoomlaStats!

Thalyn translated 100% of the texts and His translation will be added to next development snapshot and in releases v2.3.1 and v2.5.0 of com_joomlastats component!

Many thanks!!
Andrzej Trelinski

Re:V. 1.5 native translations

Posted by atrel - 2009/03/31 10:34

Really great!!!

All needed files You will find in package com_joomlastats_v2.5.0.297.zip.

For details see this note.

For Portuguese use file "pt.admin.ini.php"

We will be really appreciated for Swedish and Portuguese! :)

We are looking forward for Your translations!

Posted by amelia.pt - 2009/03/31 18:42

ok... I'll start with pt translation...

Re:V. 1.5 native translations

Posted by majkelm - 2009/03/31 18:56

My Polish translation is almost ready (about 80%)
Will someone check our work ?

Re:V. 1.5 native translations

Posted by amelia.pt - 2009/03/31 19:37

one question, after installing the 2.5.0.297 version, where can I find the pt.admin.ini.php? I loked for it, on the server, in the administrator/language folder, and in the administrator/components/com_joomlastats, but do not find the specific file.

2nd: what is the meaning of the verb purge in the message "purge JoomlaStats again until this message does not appear again". I understand the rest, but purge, looked it up, but didn't find a meaning. Does it mean execute? Reinstal??

Re:V. 1.5 native translations

Posted by atrel - 2009/03/31 19:47

amelia.pt

files You will find in com_joomlastats_v2.5.0.297_dev.zip file not in the server. I am sorry about misleading information

majkelm

Yes, I can look into Your translation. Send it to me to my private email :)

Thanks for Your efforts!!

Re:V. 1.5 native translations

Posted by amelia.pt - 2009/03/31 20:15

I found it in the zip file (so your msg was not wrong;)), I just wanted to know where I could upload it to on my server, so I can try out the result.

don't know if you saw my other question: what means purge??

File's almost ready!

Ok, file is ready. Just need to know the meaning of the word purge.

Another thing: I translated the pt.admin.ini.php file, which was a bit translated in portuguese from Brasil, not Portugal.

There are slight differences, although we understand eachother.

Shouldn't I name this file pt_pt.admin.ini.php instead?

usually, when thing are in brasilian portuguese, you see pt-br. In Portuguese form Portugal, you see pt-pt.

On my server i have pt-pt language files in Joomla.

How can I test the translated file? Is this the onnly file to be translated?

ps: when does the joomla v 1.5 native version come???? I'm waiting for...

Re:V. 1.5 native translations

Posted by atrel - 2009/04/01 19:20

Many thanks! :)

We already have German translations, but thanks for Your good will :)

Native version will be soon. I try to optimize DB - many users complain about it. Test takes me many time, and of course many fixes.

If You need it now, You can use development snapshot - it has few bugs, but it is working (check bug lists for v2.3.0 and v2.5.0)

Re:V. 1.5 native translations

Posted by avixiase - 2009/04/03 23:26

Hello! I've finished my work with the Swedish translation. Where can I upload the translated file? Is sv_SE.com_joomlastats.ini the only file that needs to be translated? What about se.admin.ini.php?

Re:V. 1.5 native translations

Posted by amelia.pt - 2009/04/06 02:00

I finished the portuguese pt-PT translation and send it by mail. Still working on the pt-BR version, since I got the flue yesterday and had to stop for a while. Hope will finish it tomorrow.:blush:

Re:V. 1.5 native translations

Posted by atrel - 2009/04/06 10:27

avixiase

Yes, only one file need to be translated.

se.admin.ini.php is file that should help You with translation.

Please contact with me through this forum (send me email through this forum). Next You will send me email with Your translation and I will add it to JoomlaStats :)

Many thanks for Your effort!

Hi,

I can take care about spanish (spain) translation.

Re:V. 1.5 native translations

Posted by atrel - 2009/04/22 18:47

It will be great If You made Spanish translation!
We do NOT have Spanish translation to version Joomla CMS 1.5.x

If You are want to join to JS Team - You are welcome! :)

Great!

If You finish until 28 IV, We will be able to add Your translation to version v2.3.1! We plan release v2.3.1 in next week.

Thanks!
Let's stay in touch!

Re:V. 1.5 native translations

Posted by asermar - 2009/04/27 20:41

Hi,
I've just finish the spanish translate.
I've not time for a in deep test so the translation could have misspells, have a non translated expression, and not all the TLD entries have been yet translated.

I've tried to keep untranslated the english terms of common use in spanish related to web pages and computers.

Where must I send the file?

thanks.

I just add Spanish translation to JS sources so it will be available with v2.3.1 and v3.0.0 of main component!

Official note is on JS front page

Once again many, many thanks for translation.
Andrzej Trelinski

PS: I must update end of lines, so if You want to update translation please first download the latest version from JS SVN

That will be GREAT

JS have never had Greek!! so it will be superb!!!

As base of translation use file "en-GB.com_joomlastats.ini" from package "com_joomlastats_v3.0.3.632_dev.zip"

If You have more question, dig in that topic or send me email through this forum! :)

Re:V. 1.5 native translations

Posted by bosit - 2010/02/01 13:16

Here it is! The country list gave me hell but I eventually found most of them hehe

Some tips: English version has many tipos, you might want to paste it in a word document and use the proof reading for easy fixing :) (shure instead of sure is in there quite some times :P)

Also many strings are duplicate in the translation template like 'browser', 'visitor', 'page' and 'operating system' Merging these in one would be helpful for future translators!

Great work with your addon, Joomla Stats! Hope the Greek translation will be included in the next release :)

That is Great!!!

margob We will really appreciate if You provide Italian translation.

We will be happy, if we add Your translation to JS releases :)

You can simply attach Your translation to post on this forum, or send me email through this forum :)

Please share also details about You (like name, surname etc), then We will be able to make official thanks :)

Notice also that, in first lines of translation You can add extra info about Yourself and even link to Your page.

We looking forward for Your translation! :)
